Trying to remember which of our e-Newsletters had that incredible pattern or tip but you can't find it anymore? Go to our main web page and click on “Archived e-Newsletters”.

In the right hand column, I've written short notes on each e-Newsletter... to help you find what you're looking for.

Some of you might remember my love affair with the “Twister Ruler”?

Here's a YouTube of Jenny at the Missouri Quilt Co., with “The Amazing Twister Ruler”:

Well, someone came out with an even BETTER Twister tool, in my opinion. Unfortunately, I RAN out and bought the 3 different size Twister Rulers, already! (insert loud groan, here)

This one is called the “June Tailor Twist N Stitch Ruler”:

I just finished this quilt top. It was a real easy block that had an incredible look.

They call it “One Pinwheel Rail Fence”. That’s the one that I did.

There’s also a “Double Pinwheel Rail Fence”, on that web page.

I used scrappy reds and whites and blacks. Here’s how my quilt top looks:

Saw this on one of the Yahoo Groups that I follow.

Goodness! I often wonder WHY I buy quilting magazines when, I can spend a bit of time on the internet and find TONS of free quilt patterns! Actually, to justify buying a magazine, I’m sometimes call it “Eye Candy” and other times, “Research”.

Here’s an excellent site, with different patterns:

One of my favorite web sites is still:

Marcia Hohn’s “Quilter’s Cache”.

<http://www.quilterscache.com/>

My “Scrap Queen”, Bonnie Hunter ALSO has a LOT of free quilt patterns on her web site, Quiltville:

And, I believe she’s got pictures and explanations on all of her FREE quilt patterns, too!

April’s Basket BOM (Block Of the Month) is now on-line.

Well, I think I've shared enough for 1 month. Hope you had an incredible Easter weekend with family and friends.
